BrewSmart RDU: Technical Brewing

Join us in the state capital for this educational Guild event, focused especially on technical brewing. A special thanks to our title sponsor for the event, ABS Commercial, for helping us put together a stellar event on helping you brew the best beer possible. We'll kick the event off with a collaborative brew day at Raleigh Brewing Company/ABS Commercial on Monday June 3rd. After a long day of catching up and brewing, we'll adjourn to the taproom for a full Member Social, sponsored by Yakima Chief Hops. Bright and early on Tuesday June 4th, we'll launch into some great sessions covering everything from raw ingredients to improving processes. It's going to be a great event, so don't wait: grab your tickets now!

More info about the educational sessions will be shared as the speakers are confirmed! Note: registration for the brew day will be separate and limited. Please stay tuned to our Facebook event & email for more details about this awesome addition!

 Please note that this event is open to all breweries and brewery staff, regardless of Guild membership. Allied trade vendors must be a member of the NC Craft Brewers Guild in order to participate. If you have any questions, please contact jasmine@ncbeer.org ***
