WILD Panel at FIA Expo Chicago: Women On Boards

While studies have shown that diversity on Boards leads to better decision making and improved corporate performance, as of 2018, women made up only roughly 22% of Fortune 500 Boards and only 15% of the board seats at the top 200 companies in the S&P 500 were held by racial minorities. Though this represents an improvement over the last decade, and change is coming from new quarters such as the recent California mandate that all locally headquartered publicly traded companies have at least one female director by 2020, more must be done in order for Boards to be truly representative.

As the industry strives to promote diversity in their management and on their Boards, this panel will bring together current Board members and diversity experts to look at why more egalitarian Boards matter, strategies for improving Board culture and ways the industry can work together to create more balanced Boards.

Panel Leader: Diane Saucier, WILD Board Member and Senior Solutions Marketing Manager, Financial Services, Hitachi Vantara

Panel:

Elizabeth Cook; Board Member, CME Group

Mary McDonnell; Founder and President, McDonnell and Associates and Member of the Board of Directors, NFA

Deborah DeHaas; Vice Chairman and National Managing Partner Center for Board Effectiveness, Deloitte

WILD London,

Would you like to have a more meaningful appraisal meeting? Have you struggled to process constructive feedback? Do you want to put yourself forward for promotion, but aren't sure how to approach it? This event will offer practical and tangible advice for getting the most out of your end-of-year review or appraisal conversation.

Our speaker for the evening is Carolyn Cresswell, Co-Founder of The Hustle House, a business set up earlier in 2019, with a purpose to drive business success by focusing on the power of people. Caroline has been helping organisations all over the world invest in their employees at both a strategic and practical level in Talent, HR and Learning & Development roles over the past 18 years - perfectly poised to lead our event.

We'll be covering:

How to get the most out of your conversation with your manager

How to respond to difficult feedback

How to put yourself forward for promotion or ask for a pay rise

The evening provides the perfect opportunity to get 1-2-1 guidance on anything particular you are focusing on, or finding difficult, in your review preparation. Carolyn will be available for an express 'Conversation Clinic' towards the end of the evening, so come prepared!

More about our Guest Speaker...

Earlier this year Carolyn co-founded The Hustle House with Fiona Allen, focusing on putting the people agenda at the heart of business. With a specific passion for developing leaders and managers, she brings a fresh combination of humour, energy and common sense to even the toughest of situations. Carolyn is a qualified coach and accredited Strengths Deployment Inventory (SDI) practitioner, and when she's not hustling, sings with the City of London Choir, wards off back pain with regular Pilates and tries to cook something new every week.
